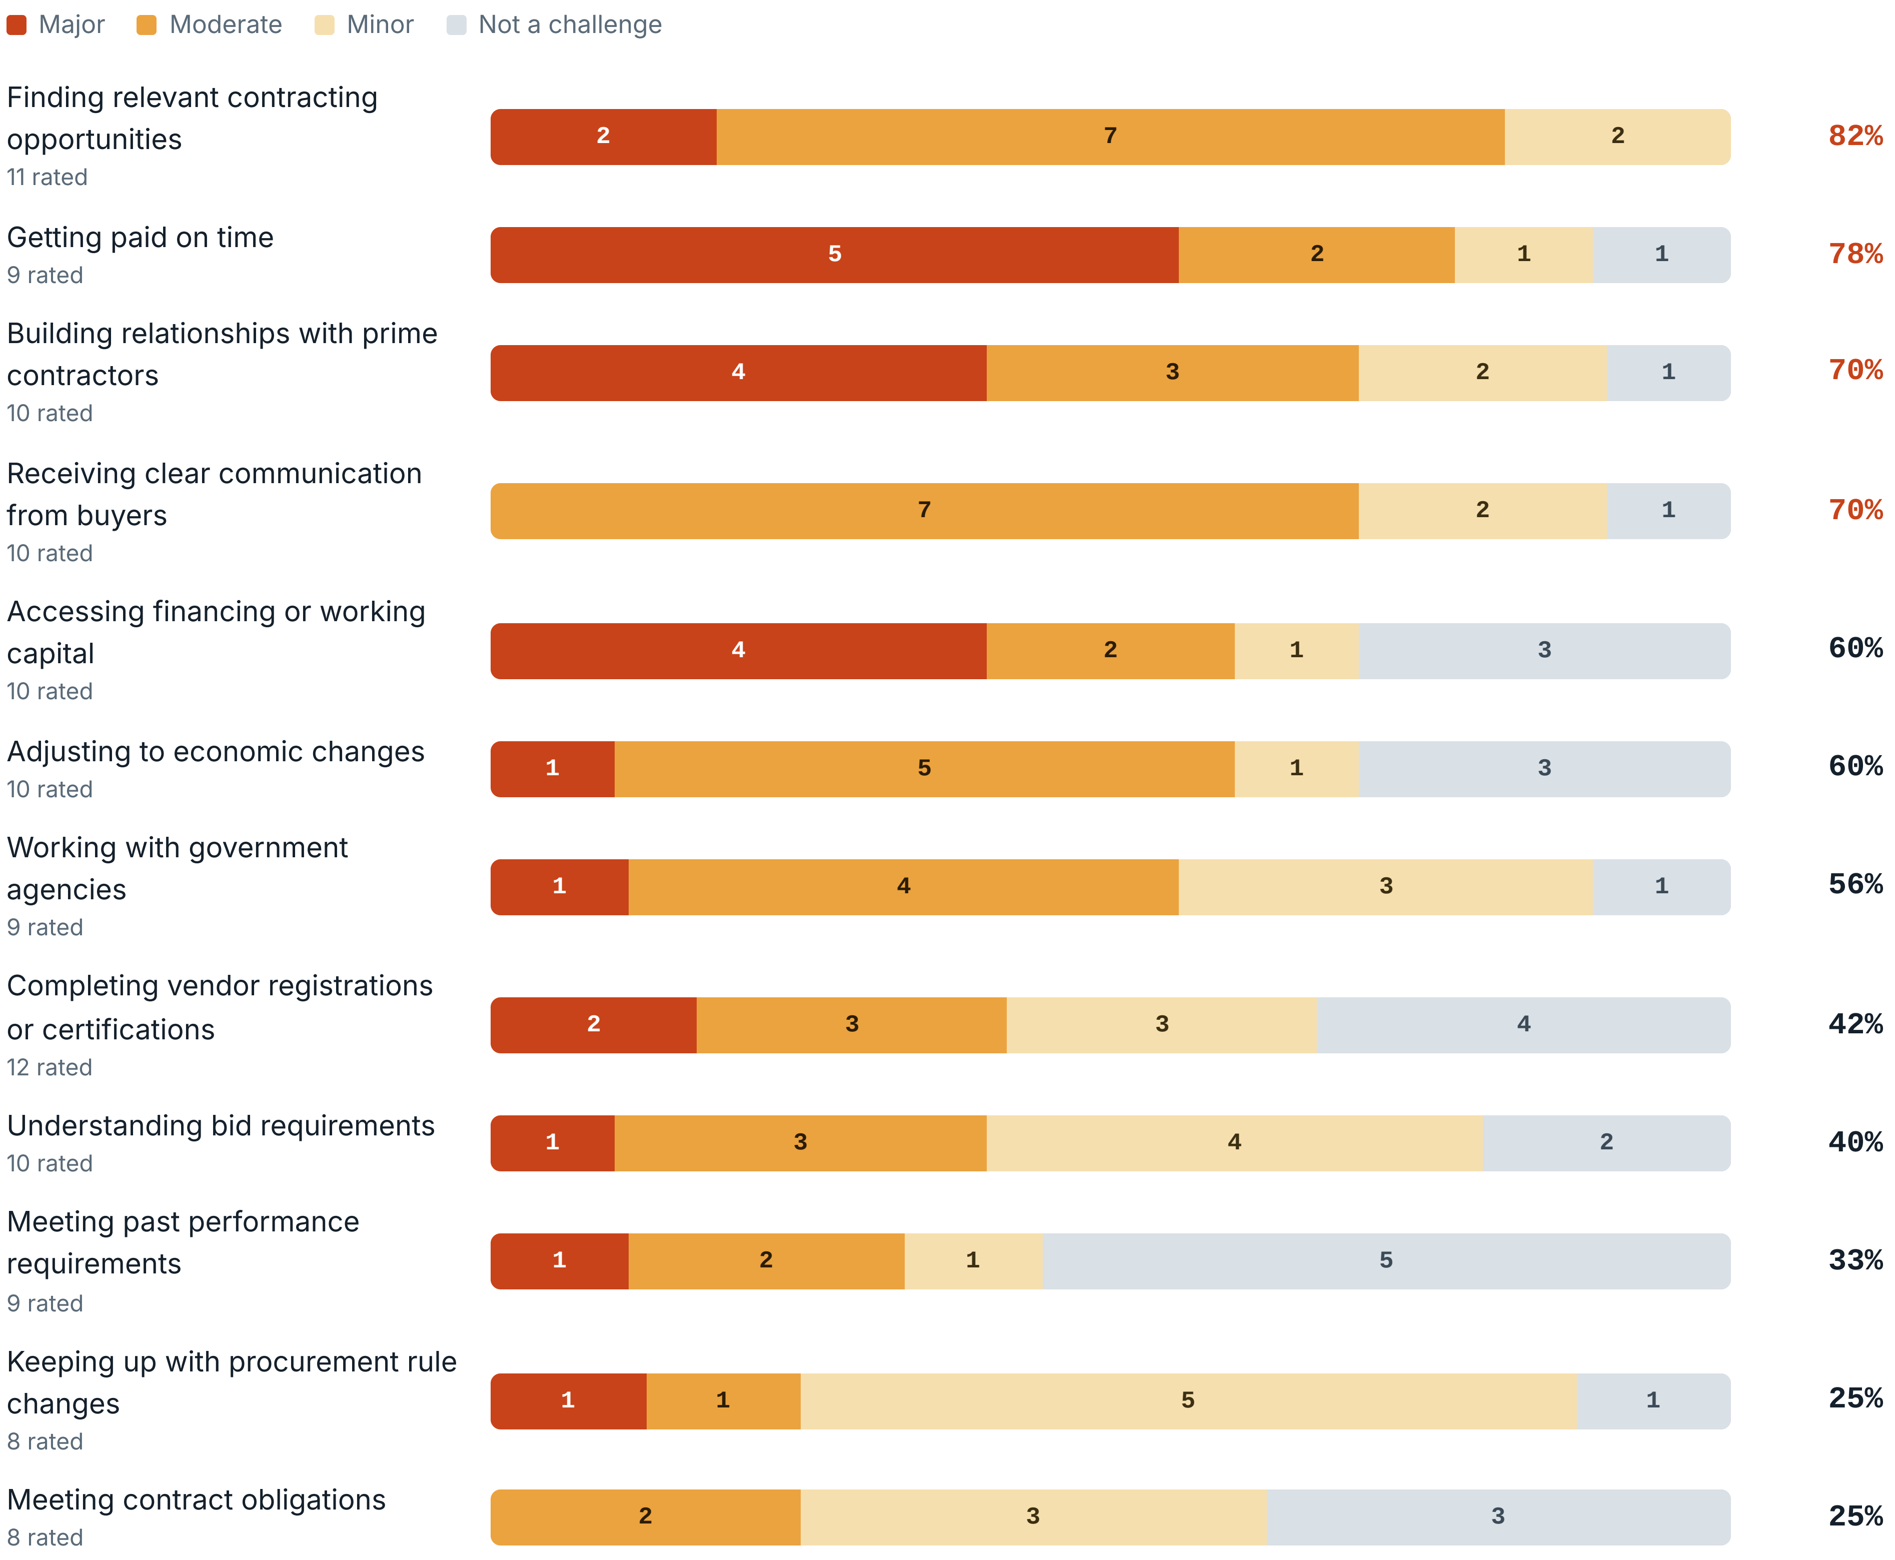
What needs the most help

Ranked by share of vendors who rated it a major or moderate challenge. "Unsure" and "not applicable" answers are left out of each row.



Pipeline

Finding opportunities is the broadest pain. Four vendors asked for bid alerts and four for proposal help.

Cash flow

Late payment and financing are the sharpest. Cash flow is the most picked top-three barrier, named by 5.

Primes

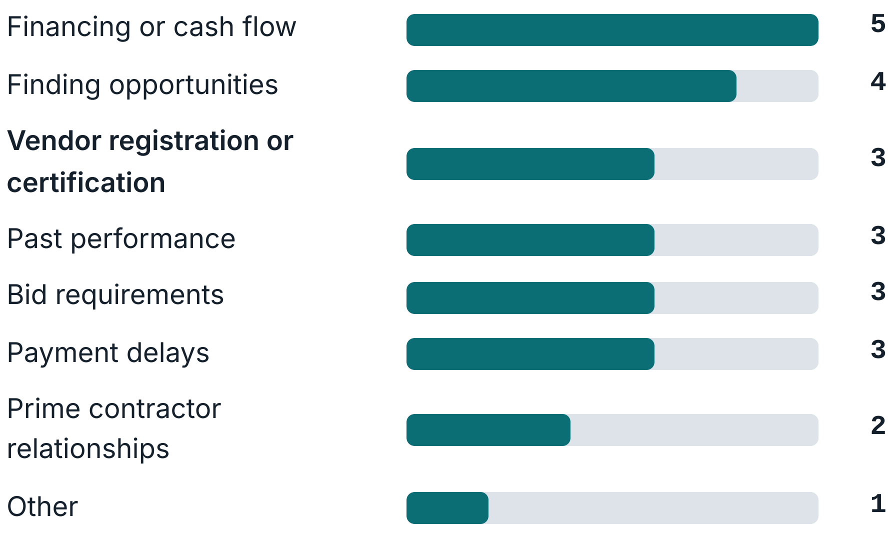
Four rate prime relationships as major. Three want help connecting with primes.

Certification

Only 5 of 12 call it a real challenge, but 4 asked for help, and two comments push back on the requirements.

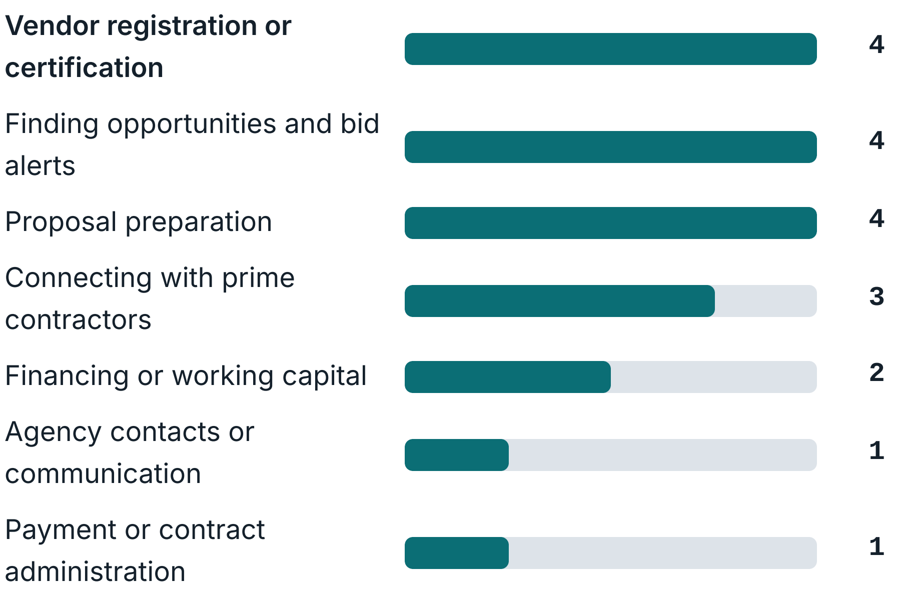
Top barriers

Vendors picked up to three. Number of vendors naming each.



Support they asked for

Vendors could pick several. Number asking for each.



Construction and trades

Asked only of construction vendors. Fewer than 8 answers per row, so read these as signals.

The instrument

31 questions plus business name. Four profile questions, 12 challenge ratings for every vendor, a 9-item section shown only to construction and trades businesses, two open-text prompts, and opt-ins for a follow-up call and a prize drawing.

The scoring

Each challenge uses a four-point scale: major, moderate, minor, not a challenge. "Unsure" and "not applicable" are excluded from each row's base.

The ranking

Rows are ordered by the share of vendors rating an item major or moderate, with major counts breaking ties.

Sample is 12 vendors, so one response moves a row by about 10 points. Treat the rankings as direction for where to focus, and confirm with the larger vendor list before committing budget.
